

SUGOMETER App - Terms and Conditions of Use

Our SUGOMETER app is not intended to amount to advice on which you should rely. It is not an industry benchmark and should not be used to judge any health benefits or issues. This is purely a generally informative app that allows you to judge an approximate sugar level in certain food and drink. This app is based on average quantities. Any recommendations or articles used in this app are purely for information only and are subject to the app user's own interpretation. You should obtain professional or specialist advice before taking, or refraining from, any action on the basis of the content of this app.

We do not accept any liability for misuse or installation of this app. We will not be liable for any direct, indirect, special, punitive, exemplary or consequential losses or damages of whatsoever kind arising out of you use or use of information supplied following the use of the app, including loss of profit or the like whether or not in the contemplation of the parties, whether based on breach of contract, tort (including negligence), product liability or otherwise. We do not exclude or limit our liability for death or personal injury caused by negligence or fraud or any other liability; which cannot be excluded or limited under applicable law.

Although we make reasonable efforts to update the information on the app, we make no representations, warranties or guarantees, whether express or implied, that the content of the app is accurate, complete or up-to-date.

You acknowledge that the app has not been developed to meet your individual requirements, and that it is therefore your responsibility to ensure that the facilities and functions of the app meet your requirements.

The app may contain links to other independent third party websites ("Third Party Sites"). Third Party Sites are not under our control, and we are not responsible for and do not endorse their content or privacy policies (if any). You will need to make your own independent judgment regarding your interaction with any Third Party Sites, including the purchase and use of any products or services accessible through them.
